Strat Y is a digital design company that has been listed on the New Zealand Stock Exchange since 2007. The company specialises in designing logos for corporate clients.

The market for digital design is growing in Australasia and South East Asia, and Strat Y now has offices in Auckland, Sydney, Kuala Lumpur, and Shanghai. The company has a strong team of designers who have won many awards.

While Strat Y currently has a strong market share, this is now under threat from online "do-it-yourself" (DIY) digital design services. The DIY service provides customers with the opportunity to create their own brand, using a template prepared by the design firm. This innovation is significantly cheaper, and is beginning to impact on Strat Y's revenue. Strat Y is looking at making changes to its business to counter this threat.

Senior management at Strat Y have decided to respond to the competition by being more innovative, developing their own range of new and improved products.

The CEO has consulted with a business analyst, who has suggested the following two strategies to create a culture of innovation at Strat Y:

- Inclusive or Task culture this strategy involves consultation across the business, inviting all staff to be involved in developing innovative new products.
- Top-down or Power culture this strategy involves management exercising authority over staff involved in developing innovative ideas, on the assumption that only they as managers know what is required.
- (b) Evaluate ONE of the above strategies to encourage an innovative culture at Strat Y. In your answer:
 - select one of the change management strategies from the box above
 - fully explain ONE positive and ONE negative impact of this strategy on the business or its employees
 - provide a justified conclusion, including any new information, as to the suitability of this strategy for Strat Y to create a culture of innovation.
